Merry Christmas to all our readers and advertisers

'I love sharing the joy of Christmas'

NATALIE ROBINSON
@NatalieR_CN

WHILE many of us may be enjoying our dinner with close family this Christmas, a mother and her five children will be sharing theirs with 140 people.

Kathleen Das and Sophia, 7, Emilia, 5, Anneliese, 4, Zara, 2, and Gabriel, who is just a few weeks old, will be sitting down to lunch at the Catholic Church in Newmarket after organising a free Christmas meal for local people for a sixth consecutive year.

The meal, an initiative of the Churches Together in Newmarket group, is open to anyone – particularly the elderly, vulnerable, or those who would otherwise be alone on Christmas Day.

"I love to be involved with the event because it is wonderful to be able to give reassurance to the elderly and vulnerable people that they will not be eating alone on Christmas Day," Kathleen said.

"For some guests, they have worried for months in advance about being lonely at Christmas and they are always so grateful to come along."

For Kathleen, Christmas morning will start very early with presents for her children from Father Christmas.

By 8am, she is already at the Catholic Church with chef Dale Knappett, who is volunteering for a second year, to start cooking the food.

Dale responded to an appeal in the Newmarket News last year for a chef to cook the lunch on the day. He enjoyed it so much, he's agreed to help again this year.

"It is always a logistical challenge in a small kitchen that is not really designed to cater for so many people," said Kathleen.

The busy mum gets involved in setting tables, prepping starters, serving welcome drinks, and co-ordinating the whole operation.

However, she is not alone – a number of volunteers also give up their time to help, including transporting guests to and from the meal, and district councillor Robin Millar and his wife Bonny will also be on hand to help again this year.

Kathleen added: "Arranging a huge Christmas meal for 140 people with five very small children is a challenge, but it is wonderful to be able to share with my older children the importance of giving something back at Christmas.

"When we all go home as a family at the end of the day, I think it is important for the children to reflect on how much happiness they were able to bring to other people by just being a smiling face and providing companionship and a meal to those who might otherwise not have celebrated Christmas.

"I hope as they grow older they will continue to be involved and want to share their family time at Christmas with those less fortunate than themselves."

Local businesses and people have also been donating to ensure the day is as festive as possible, with the Ormonde giving them Christmas crackers, the Bedford Lodge Hotel providing pigs in blankets, and local people donating tea bags and washing up liquid. All are essential to ensure the day runs smoothly, Kathleen said.

If you would like to donate anything to the meal, contact Kathleen on xmaslunch@olise.co.uk or drop donations at the parish office at the church.

Everyone is welcome at the lunch which starts at 1pm and runs until 4pm on Christmas Day.

PLANNING

Hatchfield Farm: No decision now until January

A DECISION on the controversial plans for Hatchfield Farm which was due this week has now been postponed until January.

After a three-week inquiry held in April, a decision by the Department for Communities and Local Government and Sir Eric Pickles MP has been put back to January.

The proposal for Hatchfield Farm, which is on Fordham Road and is owned by Lord Derby, is for 400 homes but the development has been fiercely opposed by many, including the racing sector who say it will damage Newmarket and the racing industry.

Those in favour believe the houses are desperately needed.

Your Newmarket News will not be publishing Christmas week.

We will be back on Wednesday, December 30th.

We would like to wish all our readers and advertisers a very Happy Christmas.

ST NIC SELFIE: Don your beard and take a selfie to support the Hospice

Show off your #StNicsBeard of foam

GRAB some foam and make yourself a beard to get involved with a festive campaign by a local charity. St Nicholas Hospice Care, who look after people in Newmarket and the surrounding area, are asking people to don a St Nics Beard, take a selfie and share it on social media.

They must then nominate three friends to do the same between now and Christmas along with the hashtag #StNicsBeard.

Participants are also given the option of making a donation by texting FOAM15 and the amount they wish to donate to 70070.

Jordan Hughes, community fundraiser, said: "The #StNicsBeard campaign is a fun and easy way to spread a little festive cheer and show your support for the Hospice. "We hope as many people join in as possible."

COURT

Man 'invaded' flat in assault

COURT REPORTER

@Newmarket_News

A MAN who helped to "invade" a flat in Newmarket to carry out an assault has been jailed for 14 months.

Jake Morgan-Rix, 23, was one of three men who tricked their way inside the home of Tarik Rukwira in Lester Piggott Way at about 2am on June 11.

On Friday, Ipswich Crown Court heard how Morgan-Rix had gained entry to the flat with the help of someone regarded as a friend by Mr Rukwira.

At the time, Mr Rukwira had been asleep in bed.

Prosecuting, Michael Crimp said Morgan-Rix had repeatedly struck Mr Rukwira.

JAILED: Jake Morgan-Rix

One blow caused a fractured nose while others resulted in abrasions and a cut to Mr Rukwira's back, said Mr Crimp.

Morgan-Rix, of Lisburn Road, Newmarket, finally fled the flat when Mr Rukwira's girlfriend telephoned for the police, the court heard.

Appearing for Morgan-Rix, Charles Myatt said his client had gone to the flat because he was unhappy with Mr Rukwira and had intended to "give him a piece of his mind."

However, the incident had then escalated into violence which had not been his intention, said Mr Myatt.

Jailing him, Judge John Devaux told Morgan-Rix that he had "invaded" the flat to carry out the assault.

Morgan-Rix, who pleaded guilty to assault causing actual bodily harm, was also ordered to pay a £900 criminal courts charge.

Judge Devaux told Morgan-Rix: "In your eyes, at any rate, there was a problem and something had upset you."

AIRCRAFT

Landing gear issue for US military plane

A US military aircraft was left circling for 30 minutes – but crisis was averted despite a problem with the landing gear.

A reader spotted the KC-135 Stratotanker from RAF Mildenhall circling on Monday morning.

The resident used his scanner to listen in and heard the undercarriage would not retract and that there was an engine issue.

A spokesman said: "The aircraft landed at RAF Mildenhall without incident and without declaring an in-flight emergency. During the flight, the aircraft carried approximately 80,000 pounds of fuel. The crew did have to troubleshoot an undercarriage (landing gear) malfunction. They were able to keep the gear down and land normally."

ACCIDENT

Motorist cut from car following two-vehicle crash

A MOTORIST had to be cut free from their car following a collision in Eriswell on Saturday.

Emergency services, including firefighters from Newmarket, Mildenhall and Brandon, were called to the collision on the A1065 at around 4.55pm on Saturday afternoon.

A spokeswoman for Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service said: "On arrival at the incident, which involved two private vehicles, the crews quickly carried out scene safety before extricating one trapped casualty using hydraulic cutting equipment."

"The police closed the road during the incident and once released, the casualty was transported to hospital by ambulance."

Fire crews had returned to their bases by 6.21pm.

Sisters' bid to help animals this Christmas

TWO teenagers from Newmarket are turning Santa this Christmas to help homeless animals in the town.

Elle and Lois Tracy, aged 15 and 13, who are both students at Newmarket Academy, started Operation: Santa Paws Appeal for animals currently being looked after by rescue centres and which do not have homes.

Mum Melisa said: "We were talking about how spoilt our pets are – they have got everything."

"Lois and Elle said they felt bad for the poor animals who do not have homes for Christmas and said what if we can get people to donate tins of food – and that's where it all started."

Items such as food, toys and newspapers will be given to local Catholics, Animal Craziness and the Exning and Newmarket Hedgehog Rescue. Donate at Party Malarkey in New Cut, Newmarket. Go to facebook.com/santapawsappeal.

COURT

Dog bite case: Jury clears owner, aged 80

THE OWNER of a dog which allegedly bit a six-year-old boy at a car boot sale has been cleared of possessing a dangerously out of control dog by a jury at Cambridge Crown Court.

The boy had been at a car boot sale with his parents on August 17, 2014, when, in an apparently unprovoked attack, golden retriever Benji pushed him over, biting his head and ear right down to the cartilage.

Benji's owner, Adrian Chaplin, 80, appeared at Cambridge Crown Court and denied being in possession of a dangerously out of control dog.

Prosecuting, Michael Procter said the boy received a significant dog bite which required 19 stitches.

In defence, Martin Rutherford said Chaplin, of Doggett's Lane in Fordham, had had the dog for five years and there had never been any indication of aggressive behaviour before.

TARA COX

Chaplin said the boy, or his companions, may have had food they were waving provocatively. This was denied and there were no witnesses to suggest this was the case.

Giving evidence, Chaplin said he got Benji in 2009 when the dog was 12 weeks old as a 'form of companionship' after losing his wife and son. He said: "I trained Benji at Soham dog training centre for 18 months and he even became top dog in show class."

"Benji is a very affectionate dog, he is a friend to everybody and he is my shadow. "I didn't see him bite the boy but in any case this was a one off, he has never done it before and won't do it again."

"I first knew something had happened when the boy's father said something to me. Since August 2014 Benji has been kept on a lead at the car boot sales."

Chaplin admitted Benji's behaviour on that day was 'unacceptable'. He added that Benji's way of begging for food was to 'sit, wait and hope he might get some', so his behaviour on this day seemed out of character.

The court heard more than 100 people stepped forward to support Benji by signing a petition to say he was not an aggressive dog.

The jury retired to consider their verdict yesterday and returned with a unanimous not guilty verdict less than 40 minutes later, acquitting the defendant of the charge against him.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Christmas Eve market for last minute goods

STOCK up on your Christmas Day vegetables and last minute essentials at a Christmas Eve market in Mildenhall.

The market, run by Forest Heath, is set to be held between 8am and 3pm on Christmas Eve.

Market days will also be held in Newmarket on December 22 and December 29, as well as a small market on January 2.

Cllr David Bowman said: "Why not take this chance to shop local and support not only our local market traders but also the local retailers, all in time for residents to get those last minute items to enjoy over Christmas."

Normal trading in Newmarket will resume on January 5, but there will be no market in Mildenhall until January 8.

Bin collection dates change over Christmas

BIN collection dates are set to change in the run up to Christmas and the New Year.

From December 22 until Christmas Day, all bin collections in Forest Heath will be done a day earlier.

Residents who would normally have their bins emptied on Monday, December 21 are instead asked to put their bins out on Saturday, December 19, for collection.

Anyone who is due to put their bin out on Friday, January 1 should also put their bin out a day later than they usually would.

Collections then return to normal.

Pupils' robot skills earns them a top spot!

PUPILS at a school in Red Lodge have controlled a robot to bring them a fifth placing at an international computing competition.

Eight year 5 and 6 pupils from St Christopher's Primary School took part in the prestigious iCool Singapore International Challenge – based upon the CoSpace Robot Simulation software.

The competition saw them go against 34 teams from around the world, programming their on-screen robot to compete against another team's robot to collect as many coloured objects as possible. The team beat those from Brazil, China, Germany, Japan, Mexico and many more, and will go to the Advanced CoSpace Competition in Martlesham Heath in January.

Bikers head out on Christmas Toy Run

JORDAN DAY
NATALIE ROBINSON
@Newmarket_News

LEATHER-clad bikers showed their softer side last week when they delivered Christmas presents to sick children.

Bikers from across the West Suffolk area – and further afield – held their annual Christmas Toy Run on Sunday.

The event, now in its 12th year, sees the bikers assemble at Walkers Snack Bar in Barton Mills, just off the Fiveways roundabout, before riding to West Suffolk Hospital, armed with toys.

The toys, which are all new and suitable for children of all ages, are bought by the riders and their family and friends, and then shared among children on the hospital's Rainbow Ward.

This year, gifts included knitted cuddly bears, board games, remote control cars, and a haul of many others.

Bikers, trikers, car drivers, and others all gathered in Barton Mills ready to take the toys to the ward at West Suffolk Hospital in nearby Bury St Edmunds.

Father Christmas himself also came along with his sleigh to spread the Christmas cheer amongst the patients and delivering a haul of gifts which towered around his festive carriage.

The toy run was launched by the Beck Row Bikers club, which folded a couple of years ago.

ARMED WITH GIFTS: Bikers getting ready to deliver gifts to West Suffolk Hospital. PICTURES: Warren Gunn

However its founder, Barbara Craig, and a few of the others were determined that the toy run would not stop.

Barbara said: "The club might have closed but we won't stop doing the toy run."

"It's great to do something like this for the local community."

"We had lots of support today – bikers from outside West Suffolk got involved, which was great, and we opened it up to people in cars this year too."

The bikers also do an Easter egg run to the hospital.

To get involved, call Barbara on 07880 695492.

Fundraiser Callum home for Christmas

JORDAN DAY
@JordanDayCN

INTREPID fundraiser Callum Fairhurst is coming home to Cambridgeshire for Christmas.

Callum, 18, who is cycling around the world in memory of his brother, is expected to arrive in his hometown of Soham today or tomorrow.

In July Callum, a former Soham Village College pupil, set off on his cycle ride across the globe in memory of Liam.

Liam was 10 when he was diagnosed with cancer. He lost his battle with the disease in 2009, but before he died he had raised a staggering £340,000 for children's cancer charities.

Not long after his death, the Fairhurst family launched the Liam Fairhurst Foundation, which supports young people in the UK affected by cancer, disabilities and illnesses.

Callum decided to take on Challenge 360 – the name he has called the ride in a bid to raise £100,000 for the foundation.

And with just America to complete now, he's decided to have a little break over the Christmas period with his family.

His mum, Sarah, who lives in Soham with her husband, Mark, said: "We're expecting him home on either Wednesday or Thursday."

"Mark and I were lucky enough to see Callum in Greece back in November but obviously we're really excited that he's coming home for Christmas."

"We're going to have a really family-orientated Christmas and it'll be nice not having to worry where in the world he is and whether he's OK."

Callum's ride started in Sydney in July. From there he cycled across Australia and through New Zealand, Indonesia, Singapore, Malaysia and Thailand.

In October, he cycled across India and in November he started his European leg of the mammoth trip, where he covered Greece, Corfu, Italy, Switzerland, France, Luxembourg, Belgium, the Netherlands, Ireland and the UK.

After spending Christmas with his family, Callum will be flying out to America on December 29 and on January 4 he will start to cycle from the West Coast of America to the East Coast.

Callum aims to finish the 18,000-mile challenge in New York in March or April.

Speaking to the News earlier in the year, Callum said: "I first thought of this idea after reading about someone equally as silly scaling the world in search of an incredible adventure, while trying to break the world record."

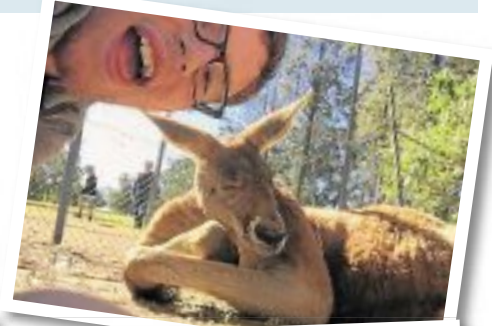

"A few years later the world cycle record stands at something unbelievably ridiculous [125 days], so I'm not trying to beat that."

"This journey isn't about speed, it's about seeing the world but also helping others across the countries I visit."

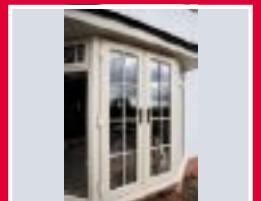

He added: "In Liam's final moments I made a promise to him that I would live a brilliant life and try to help others while doing it. This challenge is ticking both of those boxes."

People or businesses who would like to sponsor Callum should visit justgiving.com/worldcycle.

Let's hope the Americans stay

I READ your article about Cllr Waters and Matthew Hancock's latest initiative for Mildenhall with some real concerns.

Up until now there have been very mixed messages coming from our politicians about the base closure. In the absence of clear information people are creating their own versions of what they believe will happen.

The grant of the £230,000 spread over two projects is also very concerning in that the Hub project is only really viable should there be a massive housing expansion within Mildenhall.

By linking this to the base and in the absence of a commercial plan for the future, it takes us neatly back to the "Milden Keynes" scheme which is the very sort of project this Government is so keen to promote through the Housing Bill.

If the worse does happen and the Americans leave we need economic regeneration on a massive scale not housing that only benefits the politicians, developers and the London market.

Let's all hope the Americans stay and we don't get invaded by the developers.

They are on target to reach two million and help 10 million people and children.

Club artists awarded at Museum

BUDDING artists from Newmarket Academy were awarded by the National Horseracing Museum on Monday evening.

Six students were awarded after their 'Explore' level arts award, which saw them explore arts activities to create their own works of art.

Newmarket mayor John Berry, museum director Chris Garibaldi, head teacher Nick Froy, and museum staff gathered to give out the awards.

Gabrielle Bell, Arts Award

Adviser and Education

Officer at the museum, said: "Arts Award is a wonderful opportunity to take part in, explore and share arts of all kinds. It's been great fun and we hope to be able to offer more Arts Award schemes in future."

Pension change: are you aware?

EARLIER this year, the UK retirement landscape underwent its biggest transformation to date, people aged 55 and over were given the freedom to do whatever they wanted with their hard-earned pension savings.

While, by and large, people have behaved more responsibly that might have been expected, our figures show that these reforms are yet to have the desired impact and many are not benefiting from this new-found access to their pensions.

One in five over 50s have never even heard of the pension reforms, despite the monumental impact they have on the way they fund for their retirement.

And of those that have heard of them, a third admit that they remain bamboozled by their options. Yet next to none are seeking professional financial advice.

It's extremely concerning. With people spending longer in retirement and living longer overall, their money is going to need to stretch further than they might expect.

There is a real danger that today's over 50s could be missing out on the chance to have a more financially comfortable retirement or, indeed, could be putting their savings in jeopardy.

For too long, many people who could benefit from financial advice have been ignored by the industry. The Government is currently conducting a review into the financial advice industry to see how more people can get access to the support they clearly need when it comes to planning their retirement.

Radical changes must be made – the Government and financial regulators need to champion innovation that gives over 50s access to financial advice in an affordable way.

At the same time, it's vital that the review also ramps up financial education for all consumers, and tackles the jargon and hideously confusing pricing that you often find with financial services companies, which stops people engaging with their money and seeking the advice they need.

The Government has done the right thing by giving people the freedom to decide how they want to spend their money once they stop working. But the job's not over – it must now make sure they have access to the support to make the right decisions and get the retirement they deserve.

Crushing blow for nurses

THE Government has delivered a crushing blow to future nursing students in this region by removing their bursaries – the vital financial support that helps many complete their studies and become nurses.

Without this support many of us currently studying would not have been able to fulfil our dreams of becoming a nurse. We are worried about what this move means for the future of the NHS, our future colleagues and, above all, patient care.

As a mature student I would have not been able to complete my nursing degree without the bursary. As a teenager I had a student loan to complete a degree in art and would not have been entitled to another loan to pursue nursing. I was very fortunate to receive my means-tested NHS bursary which enabled me to focus on my studies. As a result I gained a first class honours degree and now work at one of the leading cardio-thoracic NHS hospitals in the country as an intensive care nurse. I am fully committed to the NHS and intend to give many years of service.

Student nurses are not like other students. Half our time is spent doing clinical work and our academic year is longer, giving us fewer opportunities to earn money in our spare time. We also tend to be older, many with families to support while completing our studies.

Taking away these grants and replacing them with hefty loans will only pile on more financial pressure. Student nurses are the profession's future and their relationship with the NHS is critical. This decision risks severing that critical link and in doing so the Government is effectively absolving itself of responsibility to ensure the right numbers of nurses are in the right place.

We are disappointed that the Royal College of Nursing was not consulted. We must now be allowed to work with the Government on a solution.

The future of nursing must be protected.

CHRISTMAS

Santa is coming to town

SANTA Claus is making one of his last stops in our region tomorrow before heading back to the North Pole to get ready for the big day.

Father Christmas will be making a grand appearance in West Row on December 17, in and around the village, to find out who has been naughty and nice.

The man himself will also be collecting for West Suffolk Hospital's Rainbow Ward for children who are having to spend their Christmas at the hospital.

Santa, who has already visited Red Lodge, Beck Row and Mildenhall, will be coming to West Row thanks to the Forest Heath Crime Prevention Panel.

Then, he will also be making a visit to Newmarket with the Lions group for the town's Winter Wonderland, starting on December 19, and organised by Newmarket Town Council.

Go and visit at his grotto in the Memorial Hall.

Thug left man in pool of blood after savage attack

SAVAGE ATTACK: Tobias Badcock has been jailed

A MAN from Soham will be serving 12 years behind bars after launching a violent attack on a man, which left him with a traumatic brain injury and lying in a pool of his own blood.

Tobias Badcock, of White Hart Lane in Soham, assaulted on a man and left him hospitalised for a month.

The victim's family feared he would not survive, and the attack has been described by police as "shocking" and "savage".

Police said Badcock attacked a "much smaller man" who he could "easily overpower" and had left him fighting for his life following the assault.

The 25-year-old was walking along Walpole Road in Cambridge, when he carried out the violent attack on his victim, a man in his 30s.

The assault happened between 5.30am and 7.15am on June 7, and the victim was discovered by a jogger at about 7.15am, lying in a pool of his own blood.

RAYMOND BROWN

Badcock left his victim with a traumatic brain injury and multiple facial fractures.

He was placed in a medically induced coma and spent three months in hospital before returning home to continue his rehabilitation.

Badcock was later caught after police found blood-stained clothing linking him to the crime.

He was identified as having been with the victim earlier that morning through CCTV at a fuel station in Cherry Hinton before being seen by witnesses to walk with him onto Walpole Road.

He was charged after the victim's property was found at his home, along with blood-stained clothes linking him to the attack.

Detective Constable Tom Rogers said: "Badcock launched a violent and savage attack against a smaller man he was easily able to overpower before leaving him in a life threatening condition with no aid."

"My thoughts are with the victim who will have to deal with the long-term effects of these actions and his family who, for a time, believed they would lose their son."

"I hope this result will help them to move on with their lives."

Badcock was sentenced to 12 years imprisonment at Cambridge Crown Court on Tuesday, December 8 for grievous bodily harm with intent, theft and a separate offence of battery resulting from a breach of a suspended sentence handed down by Cambridge magistrates in February.

The long-term prognosis of the victim's injuries are still not clear.

'Give the gift of safety to your friends this Christmas' – police

GIVE the 'gift of safety' this festive season.

That is the message from Suffolk police who are encouraging people to work with them to keep communities safe, and think of anyone who may be "in harm's way" or alone at this time of year.

The campaign is launching as the festive season gets into full swing, with town centres becoming busy with revellers and Christmas parties.

Extra officers will be put on duty to cope with additional demand, but police are asking that people "avoid placing an additional strain on resources" and help keep each other safe.

People who drink too much alcohol can leave themselves vulnerable to becoming a victim of crime and as such are being urged not to put themselves at risk unnecessarily.

TAKE CARE: Chief Supt David Skevington

Friends and colleagues are asked to take care of people that either become too drunk or get separated from the group and ensure that they are not left alone and get home safely.

Officers on patrol will be wearing body-cams whilst dealing with individuals they deem vulnerable.

The footage will then be shown back to the person concerned at a later date to highlight how their behaviour could have put their own safety at risk.

County Policing Commander, Chief Superintendent David Skevington, said: "The message from police is simple – have fun and enjoy yourselves, but take care of one another."

"Looking out for the safety of a friend or relative is a duty we all share this Christmas."

Village defibrillator may be moved

RESIDENTS and parish councillors of Cheveley are investigating where would be the best place to keep the village's defibrillator.

At the village's parish council meeting on Tuesday, December 8, councillors received correspondence from a local resident who "suggested that the defibrillator should be relocated to another more central position in Cheveley".

The defibrillator is currently kept at the Pavilion and councillors have decided to keep it at that location whilst "further investigations regarding alternative options were undertaken".

The parish councillors are also looking at whether a first responder scheme was possible for the village, but was thought to be unlikely.

CHARITY

Could you give something for Each's appeal?

NATALIE ROBINSON
@NatalieR_CN

AN organisation in Newmarket is looking to spread some Christmas cheer to help a charity for sick children this festive season – and they need your help.

For almost 20 years, the Newmarket Lions have launched a gift appeal for East Anglia's Children's Hospices (Each).

While in the past the Lions have asked for people to buy a 'spare, extra' present for the appeal, this year they are asking people to look closer to home.

Chris Rawlinson, PR officer for the Newmarket Lions, said: "We normally ask people to go out and buy an extra present, but this year we are asking people to look in their attics and lofts and look for any unwanted or unloved items they have at home to donate to Each."

The collection has started and will be running until Christmas Eve, where the group will be taking the donated presents to the hospice.

This year, the Hospice have asked for people to donate: good quality clothing, good quality and clean bric-a-brac like ornaments, dinner service sets, mugs and vases, modern paperbacks, or toys of a good and saleable quality.

They are also asking for jewellery, DVDs and CDs, household linens, retro and dressing up clothes, or small electrical items like clocks or personal CD players.

Chris added: "This is the first year where we haven't done a new gift collection.

GIVE A LITTLE: Some of the gifts donated for last year's appeal

"What the Hospice really needs is good quality pre-loved stuff.

"It will be sold in their shops and the money they will raise from that they are absolutely desperate for.

"The money all goes to the Hospice at Milton as it is our most local hospice."

The Lions are encouraging as many people as possible to drop off their items to help those locally in need.

Chris added: "This is doing something for people who are in a horrendous position.

"To have a child with a limited life must be horrendous and the worst thing any family can go through.

"If people can donate some items they no longer have a use for, the Hospice through their shops can turn that into much needed cash and make a difference to those people's lives."

Items can be dropped off at the Memorial Hall on Newmarket High Street throughout December, up until Christmas Eve.

Items can be left at any time during opening hours, which are extended over the weekend due to the upcoming Winter Wonderland.

For information about opening times, go to newmarket.gov.uk.

CCTV released after cash point skimming

A SKIMMING device and MP3 camera were found on a cash machine in Soham.

A man attempting to use the cash point in High Street, Soham, contacted police on the evening of November 18 after finding what he thought was a skimming device.

On closer inspection, he also found a camera taped to the top of the machine.

Police have now released CCTV of a man they want to speak to in connection with fraud.

Anyone with information should call DC Andy Harding on 101. Or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

COUNCIL

Parking charges set to rise in the town centre

THE price of parking could be set to rise in Newmarket under new plans by the district council.

Forest Heath are looking to increase some of its car parking tariffs ahead of the opening of the National Heritage Centre for Horseracing and Sporting Art next year.

The centre is set to attract 50,000 visitors in its first year.

FHDC is working with town centre partners including police, the town council, tourism and business groups, which said better signage, more enforcement, and a higher long stay charge was required.

The council will be discussing the plans at cabinet next week.

It is proposed that most short stay prices will stay the same, while town centre workers will be encouraged to buy a weekly ticket for £10.

However, the All Saints Road car park, will go up during short stay where four hours will now be £1.80.

Long stay car parking charges will increase from £2 to £2.50 and Sunday and bank holiday charges will be set at the same rate for the rest of the week.

The High Street bays may also become pay and display after consultation from the County Council.

Hancock chats to rail users at Newmarket

THE MP for Newmarket has been chatting to commuters in the town to discuss plans to improve the town's railway station.

West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock went to the station to talk to residents and commuters about improving the services and facilities.

At the end of October it was announced that the station was set to benefit from £100,000 in funding from Abellio Greater Anglia, Newmarket Racecourses, Jockey Club Estates, Tattersalls, Suffolk County Council, and Suffolk Heath Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

So far the station has received new signage saying 'Newmarket - Home of Horse Racing', an LED screen to provide running information, and a card only ticket machine. The platforms have also been jetwashed and repainted.

Mr Hancock went to the station to talk to commuters on how the station can be further improved, whilst members from the Newmarket Rail Group showed him their plan to renovate the platform.

The East Anglia Rail Franchise outlined priorities for the station including improved facilities, direct connectivity to London, half hourly services to Cambridge, and better bus connectivity to town and the racecourse.

Mr Hancock said: "It was an excellent meeting with the team working to improve Newmarket Station - and talking about how we can work to improve services.

"Positive steps are already being made, and I am pleased to see that a new ticket machine and display board has been installed to make commuting easier for the thousands of residents and visitors who use the station every week.

"The station provides an important gateway to the town and its industries, as well as those visiting our world famous racecourse.

"By investing in improving services and facilities, we are investing in Newmarket's future and I will do all I can to make this happen".

Mr Hancock has already pledged his support for rail services in Suffolk to Transport Minister Claire Perry ahead of its debate in the House of Commons next Wednesday.

CHRISTMAS

Local organisations serve up a Christmas treat

A DELICIOUS feast of Christmas dinner is being served up for visitors to Newmarket Day Centre this week.

Local residents are invited to go along to the centre, which provides "food, fun and friendship" for older people, every day this week to enjoy a two course lunch with a glass of sherry or orange juice.

Servers included Robert Nobbs from the Heath Court Hotel and the News' own account executive, Louise Cohen.

Different entertainment is on offer every day to get guests into the festive spirit.

On Monday, Brian Roy performed, while Jackie Raven took to the stage yesterday. Today, Tony Jacks will be entertaining guests, while tomorrow it's Mandy and Charlie, and Friday it's Bon Accord.

Find out more about the Christmas lunches by calling 01638 664262.

£230,000 fund for Mildenhall

A TOTAL of £230,000 has been given to "shape the future and fortunes" of Mildenhall.

The Government's One Public Estate programme has released the money after a bid by West Suffolk Councils, Suffolk County Council, Greater Cambridge Greater Peterborough LEP, New Anglia LEP and the West Suffolk Clinical Commissioning Group.

Forest Heath District Council will receive the funds to plan the future of RAF Mildenhall, support the growth of the town, and the Mildenhall Hub project, to provide more cost effective public services by putting them all on one site.

Cllr James Waters, leader of FHDC, has said the decisions made over the next few years for the town can "shape or break local growth and prosperity".

He added: "The Government, in giving us this funding, recognise that we,

NATALIE ROBINSON
@NatalieR_CN

working with our local communities, are best placed to take this forward.

"The Government has recognised that there are huge challenges that lay before us in preparing for the closure of RAF Mildenhall in around six years time.

"We expect to find out in the early part of next year whether the MOD plans to retain the RAF Mildenhall site. We have pressed home our residents' concerns that under no circumstances should it be mothballed.

"Should it release part or all of the site, there is a huge opportunity of jobs and housing growth to be considered within our local plan."

West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock also welcomed the news of the cash fund, particularly citing the Mildenhall Hub project which will free up cash as public services are brought together on the same site.

He said: "This is excellent news for Mildenhall. I am delighted that the Government is putting its money where its mouth is and funding the further development for the town's innovative hub project.

"Next year is set to be a busy one for Mildenhall, but I know that this hub has the chance to be groundbreaking, providing a single site for education, health, leisure, council, DWP, voluntary sector, emergency services and enterprise space will be reduced and local services in Mildenhall will be brought together and working as one.

"Mildenhall is leading the way. Where Mildenhall leads the rest of the country follows and I will do all I can to help deliver this."

NEW RECRUIT:
Roxy with her handler, Pc Annelly Miles

Roxy is police's newest recruit

A NEW police dog will be out on the streets in Suffolk this Christmas.

Roxy, a 13-month-old German shepherd dog, and her new handler Pc Annelly Miles, join the force as a general purpose team.

They will be assisting officers with searches and public order patrols.

Roxy started life as a family pet, but was returned to her breeder before coming to the dog section where she joins her brother, Ozzy.

Pc Miles said: "We have taken her training at a steady pace as she is still such a young dog.

She's gradually worked out what the games are and if she gets it right she gets her toy and lots of play!

"She has enjoyed all the aspects of her training but it was clear early on that she has a good nose for tracking."

FIRE

Woman injured and dog rescued in kitchen blaze

NATALIE ROBINSON
@NatalieR_CN

A WOMAN was taken to hospital after breathing in smoke during a fire in a kitchen last week.

Firefighters rescued the woman's dog from the blaze in Parkers Walk, Newmarket, on Tuesday evening.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service was called out about 6.45pm after reports the kitchen was "well alight".

A spokesman said the occupants of the house were accounted for by 7.15pm but added that a dog had to be rescued.

The woman was taken to hospital suffering with an "asthma-related issue to do with smoke inhalation".

Two fire appliances attended the incident and crews used two sets of breathing apparatus, one hose reel jet and one covering jet to extinguish the blaze.

The cause of the fire is being investigated.

CHRISTMAS

Police put on festive feast for the elderly

PENSIONERS from Newmarket and the surrounding area enjoyed a Christmas lunch earlier this week thanks to Suffolk police.

The police's Newmarket Safer Neighbourhood Team (SNT) held the annual lunch at Newmarket Academy, organised by Pcos Hannah Rogers and Shirley Bradnam.

Students and staff at the academy prepared the food, which was donated by Waitrose, while the town's Heath Court Hotel supplied wine and decorations.

Children from St Louis Primary School sang carols, while Exning Primary School pupils played handbells, and Newmarket Academy students performed scenes from their Cinderella panto.

Guests who attended the lunch were all from the local community, from supported living arrangements to care homes in Newmarket, as well as people who had been victims of crime.

Acting Sergeant Rob Diver, from Newmarket SNT, said: "I have to say it was brilliant, and the comments received by the guests were very complimentary.

"A huge thank you to all who made it possible and a very, very special thanks to Hannah and Shirley.

"Their whole-hearted commitment to the event is much appreciated by all those involved."

AIR BASE

USAF prepared for an 'active shooter' attack

NATALIE ROBINSON
@NatalieR_CN

AIRMEN from RAF Lakenheath have been preparing for an "active shooter" scenario on the air base.

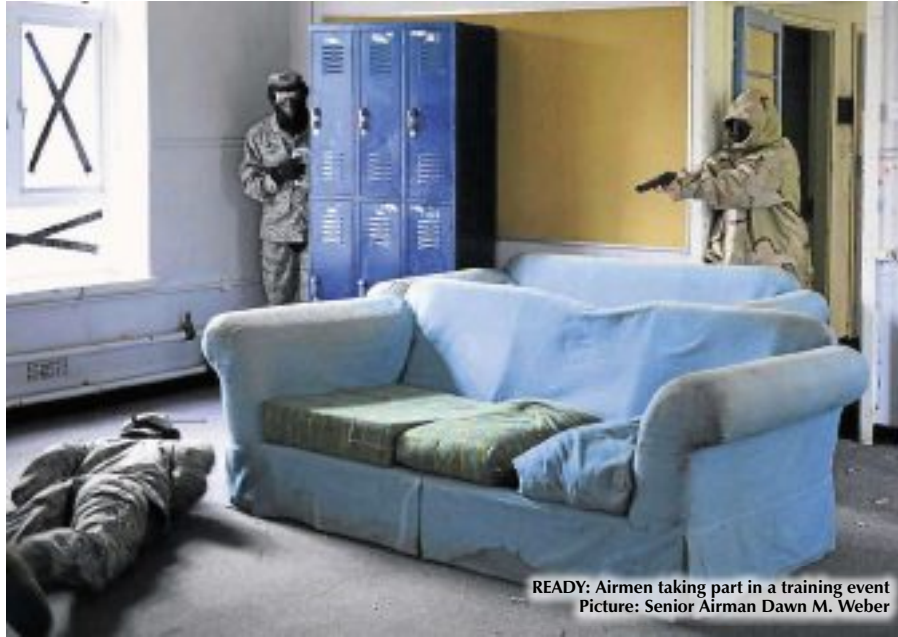

Staff Sgt Joseph Betancourt, 48th Security Forces Squadron training supervisor, has been leading classes through "real world active shooter scenarios", with the base saying "it's not a matter of if these incidents will occur, but when".

Ssgt Betancourt said airmen, "realistically" aren't always going to be armed, with their three options being whether to "freeze, fight or flee".

The training has been designed to ensure they respond properly, the base said.

Ssgt Betancourt said: "We as security forces are training the base populace how to react, where to move, how to escape safely, how to properly barricade, or if need be, to fight."

The training uses simulated mini-tions to "increase the urgency and importance of the training", with Ssgt Daniels saying although there was an element of fun, there was still a feeling of "being hunted".

Quality at Page Fine Jewellery

QUALITY: High Street store is well worth a visit

IN business for 35 years, Page Fine Jewellery is a family run independent jeweller in Newmarket and Ely, and have just launched a new boutique in addition to their two existing branches, at 61a High Street, Newmarket. With three generations of goldsmiths, the business dates back to 1925 and Page is still going strong, thanks to loyal customers who have chosen the firm to help, and even create, some of their most special pieces of jewellery.

The shop specialises in fine jewellery and watches. Page Fine Jewellery's new boutique now stocks popular jewellery brands such as Thomas Sabo, Jersey Pearl (affordable fresh water pearls), Bering, Kit Heath, Daniel Wellington and Citizen Watches as well as being main stockists for Troll Beads and Links of London, together with offering classic gold and silver jewellery. Wedding and engagement rings are available from the leading brands such as Brown and Newirth, or the in-house design team can help you create the perfect bespoke ring.

If you are considering popping the big question this Christmas, you're looking for the perfect gift for a special someone, or perhaps your favourite watch needs a little TLC then make sure you visit one of Page Fine Jewellery's outlets.

Page Fine Jewellery are proud to be a member of both The Company of Master Jewellers and The National Association of Goldsmiths and with the excellent customer service expected of a family-run business, combined with modern techniques and expertise, it's the perfect place to head this Christmas.

Call in to Page Fine Jewellery, 61A High Street, Newmarket, Tel: (01638) 667513 or visit page-fine-jewellery.co.uk.

Treat someone special this Christmas...

Sounds like Christmas

THERE'S just something so festive and evocative about the sound of brass instruments, isn't there? Especially at this time of year and especially when they're playing a selection of seasonal music. If you agree (and, frankly, who wouldn't?) then you should make sure you get yourself a ticket for the Prime Brass family concerts on Sunday.

With shows at a family-friendly 4pm and 6pm, the irrepressible Cambridge ensemble, Prime Brass, will be joined by King's Junior Voices and their own Junior Prime Brass players to bring you a fun-filled hour of gorgeously Christmassy music. Now that sounds just perfect.

Prime Brass Family Christmas Concert,
West Road Concert Hall, Sunday,
December 20, 4pm and 6pm.
Tickets £7.50 from adcticketing.com/
(01223) 300085.

ROUND UP

● GET ready for Newmarket's Winter Wonderland, which will start on Saturday, December 19.

Camels, one of which will be ridden by town mayor John Berry, an illuminated band, ice sculptures and light up lanterns will all take to the High Street to officially open the five day event at 4.30pm on Saturday.

The fun begins at 11am on Saturday and runs until 8pm, with the same hours on Sunday. An ice rink will also take over the Memorial Gardens, costing £2.50 a go.

Father Christmas will be waiting to see children in his magical grotto in the Memorial Hall, which is bigger and better than ever before.

Festivities continue into the week where there will also be a Christmas market and a children's cinema.

● A CHRISTMAS celebration concert in Fordham this year has now completely sold out. No tickets will be available on the door for the Fordham Charity Group's 23rd Christmas Concert, held on Saturday, December 19.

● SLEEPING Beauty will be brought to Newmarket by the Nomads in January.

This year's panto tells the story of King Cactus and Queen Marigold, who are blessed with Princess Rose. But when she isn't invited to the christening, Bad Witch Hazel curses the princess and it falls to Prince Alexis to try and save her.

Sleeping Beauty, written by Alan Frayne, will be performed in the Kings Theatre in Newmarket.

The pantomime will be held between Saturday, January 9 to Saturday, January 16.

Evening performances start at 7.30pm and matinees are available on January 9, 10, and 16th.

Tickets cost £12 for adults and £10 for concessions.

For tickets, call the box office on 01638 663337 or go to ticketsource.co.uk/event/108773.

MUSIC

Ellie Jamison in Cambridge

WRITING and performing since the age of 9, Ellie Jamison is one talented lady. With a glorious vocal tone and self-composed lyrics of the heartfelt and moving kind, her album – This Time Around – (produced by Ed Sheeran collaborator Amy Wadge, no less) is available now to preorder, and being trailed by her new single Effortless.

And if you fancy catching Ellie's dulcet tones in real life, you're in luck. Her tour is taking her to

The Alma in Cambridge tomorrow evening. If you pop down, we're pretty sure that she'll convert you. Effortlessly.

Ellie Jamison, The Alma, Friday, December 18, 7.30pm. Free.

Is Pathfinder a driverless goal that's attainable?

AN important trial of driverless vehicles has scooped the prestigious Automotive Award for Innovation from the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders. The trophy was in recognition of technology involved to bring three driverless pods to the streets of Milton Keynes.

Working in partnership with academics to develop the LUTZ Pathfinder (Low-carbon urban transport zone), the company behind the project is Transport Systems Catapult (TSC). It wants to show driverless pods can help drastically reduce road deaths and serious injuries by removing the human element from driving.

TSC's Steve Yianni said: "Ninety per cent of collisions on the UK's roads are due to human error in one way or another, so by allowing the vehicle to make decisions based on a broad array of information provided could help reduce this figure enormously."

There is no dispute that most collisions are due to one or more driver making an error of judgement. Also, there are plenty of studies and statistics to prove that a driverless car future could make road deaths and serious injuries very rare and almost completely avoidable.

This is an admirable future to work towards. However, there are questions to be asked about the LUTZ Pathfinder project. For starters, the electrically powered pods will be driving in pedestrianised areas as well as on roads, yet they have a limited top speed of 15mph. This begs the question of how safe will they be mixing among other vehicles that may well be driving at considerably higher speeds?

To counter this to some extent, TSC says each of the three pods will be piloted by a trained driver to make sure there are no risks to passengers or pedestrians. This then raises another query about how useful is a driverless pod when it needs a driver present and can carry only a single passenger at a time, even if that passenger can be driven from door to door?

The plan is for the LUTZ Pathfinder pods to run until 2017, allowing plenty of time to collect and collate data from the trial. It's certainly a sound way to reduce urban pollution and perhaps encourage some drivers to leave their car at home or at an out of town car park.

A problem arises, though, because the pods use a 3D map of Milton Keynes coupled to on-board sensors to know where they are. While this means the pods are perfectly capable of conducting themselves safely, they will be in among other vehicles they cannot communicate with and that means they cannot predict or plan for their actions.

This is not a unique failing of the LUTZ Pathfinder, but a drawback of all driverless vehicles. Unless every vehicle on the road around them is using the same systems, there is a serious risk of one or more vehicles being unaware of the presence of other vehicles. The dangers here are obvious and just as potentially harmful as any vehicle driven by a human being.

The LUTX Pathfinder project should be applauded, but the reality of that future is a lot further away than the projects' operators might hope.

TAXI: Hyundai's new ix35 Fuel Cell

Hyundai delivers Fuel Cell ix35s for Paris

HYUNDAI has delivered five ix35 Fuel Cell vehicles to the Paris-based electric taxi start-up STEP (Société du Taxi Electrique Parisien). The handover coincides with the opening of the first hydrogen refuelling station in Paris, launched as the world focuses on COP21, the United Nations Climate Change Conference, held in the French capital.

The delivery of the five ix35 Fuel Cell makes the world's largest fuel cell taxi fleet, and is the first step in establishing a hydrogen-powered electric taxi fleet called "hype" (Hydrogen Powered Electric), serving the greater Paris area. The fleet is planned to increase up to several hundred vehicles within five years, with the refuelling infrastructure to be gradually installed in 2016.

Renault makes safety progress with new Mégane

WHEN it comes to safety, the new Mégane scores highly for both adult and child protection.

The latest Renault shares the benefits of the same Common Module Family (CMF) platform as the Kadjar crossover. Features of this new platform include the use of very high elastic limit steel for the spars, side rails and cross members (notably those situated between the engine compartment and the cabin). A square millimetre of this type of steel can withstand a load of 120kg.

The CMF platform also incorporates effective occupant restraint systems, including dual-generator front airbags, the deployment of which adapts as a function of the type of impact and position of the occupant.

Thanks to the CMF platform, the new Mégane also benefits from the many driver assistance systems already featured on Renault vehicles from the segment above, such as the Espace. These aids are designed to reassure or warn drivers, or for ease of driving, and include Adaptive Cruise Control, AEBs (Active Emergency Braking System), Lane Departure Warning system, Safe Distance Warning system, Overspeed Protection with Traffic Sign Recognition and a Blind Spot Warning.

Driver aids also include Hands Free Parking (front, rear and lateral parking sensors) and a reversing camera, subject to spec.

The Renault Talisman was also given a five-star rating at the same time as new Mégane, taking the number of Renault models to achieve the five-star rating in 2015 to four. The Kadjar and Espace, also benefiting from the CMF platform, were also awarded the rating by Euro-NCAP earlier this year.

ELECTRIC PIANO

I have a Celviano Ap20 electric piano for sale. It has a full sized weighted keyboard with three pedals and lacks the paraphernalia of a electronic keyboard. The sound is very authentic and lacks the size of a full piano. It has connections for speakers and computer links. Might be an opportunity for a keen musician or student.

ATHLETICS

Holley scoops plaudits with champion gong

PAUL Holley was named champion performer for Newmarket Joggers' at their annual awards.

His personal best in the Berlin Marathon of 2hr 38min 32sec and a series of top-class displays over a variety of races and distances helped him to the prize.

Karine Ferrin and Greg Davis were the winners of the annual grand prix trophy.

The prize is given to the leading male and female in a series of 10 mixed terrain events for the 5K summer league, the Suffolk Cross Country League and a wild card event, with the calculations also age related. And Ferrin was the ladies' shield winner and Davis took the men's prize.

Jackie Henley and Craig Sargent won the new member honours, while improver of the year trophies went to Emma Townsend and Gavin Moody, who has made remarkable strides on his return from serious surgery.

Jenny Osbourn and Neville Clarke, who has collected a series of age-group prizes around the region, won the veteran awards.

The outstanding commitment of Helen Wass and Jeremy Reader was recognised by team member prizes, while Alex Cairns took the club member award for being a valued group leader who has also had a great year of competition.

Founder Newmarket Joggers' member Geoff Sales presented Kevin Connolly with the special award for marathon and ultra running, having taken part in the Oldham 40-mile Ultra, Brighton Marathon, North Downs Way 50, Stour Valley Path 100K, Monster Ultra 42 miles and the Dublin Marathon.

The Joggers also stage a popular winter 5K handicap series of training events, and Debbie Read and Justin Long won prizes for their improvement throughout the sessions and their general contribution.

Meanwhile, the Joggers had a number of members competing in the annual Beccles 10 Turkey Trot.

Paul Dockerill put in a strong performance to finish in 1:10.36 and V60 performer Clive Purbrook put in a good display to clock 1:14.30.

Neil Williamson is building for his spring marathon objectives, and came home in 1:21.38, and Belinda Scofield is tuning up well for another crack at the County Cross Country and finished in 1:24.20.

Newmarket Joggers will launch their third beginners' running group on Monday, January 11.

The 10-week course provides a structured, gradual approach to encourage those wishing to start running or those returning after a lengthy absence.

SWIMMING

Young swimmers impress at December open meeting

AWARD: Lauren Watt receives her prize for finishing as top girl

YOUNGSTERS from Newmarket Swimming Club achieved impressive results at the club's open meeting.

The talented swimmers achieved six regional qualifying times, 20 county qualifying times and 210 personal bests.

Their efforts brought about an impressive haul of 45 gold medals, 26 silver and 15 bronze.

The club also had seven of the 10 top girls, with Lauren Watt coming out on top. Etholle Marks was second and Tess Wesley third.

Zak Baldwin was the second best performer among the boys, with Cameron Bavey third.

Newmarket scored the most points, with Ely taking away the trophy for the best visiting club.

Club chairman Chris Bellwood was delighted with the youngsters' performances. He said: "Our own swimmers performed exceptionally well with more than 200 PBs, a huge number of medals won, and featuring highly in the individual scores.

"With this coming on the back of a great run in the Suffolk winter league and great performances at other recent open meetings, it bodes well for what could be a fantastic Suffolk County Championships next year.

"Annette (Skeet's) dedication and coaching skills are really showing in these performances."

■ Olympic swimmer Jemma Lowe will be visiting Newmarket Swimming Club on January 10 to give advice and take part in a question and answer session.

Lowe finished sixth in the 200m butterfly final at the 2012 Olympics in London, and recently finished fifth in the World Championships at both the 100m and 200m butterfly finals in Doha.

RUGBY UNION

Availability battle is Newmarket's scourge

NEWMARKET'S inability to field a consistent team haunted them again as they lost 29-0 at Woodbridge in Greene King IPA Eastern Counties One.

The teams were evenly matched from the kick off, with Newmarket unable to convert two penalties.

Woodbridge were able to land a penalty, and then five minutes later Woodbridge touched down after a 30-metre break from their fly-half, making it 8-0 at half time.

The hosts got their second try four minutes into the second half, and they added to their tally with another converted try.

With player-coach Ali Walker replacing captain Simon Guenigault, who had turned an ankle, Newmarket made several more attacks, but still failed to score as Woodbridge completed their scoring just before the end of the match.

There were positives for Newmarket though, with one of them being first-team debutant George Brown, who was named the visitors' man of the match.

And Newmarket coach Walker said: "George was a late call-up to the squad, started out of position, but went on to have a stormer of a match.

"George's attitude does him great credit."

Newmarket's next match is at home at Scalback on Saturday, kick off 2pm, against Mersea Island, who are just above them in the league.

COMPLETING THE TEAM:
Alfie Bowtell has signed for Mildenhall Fen Tigers

Bowtell says bye to Rye and joins Fen Tigers

ALFIE Bowtell makes the move from old enemy Rye House to Mildenhall to complete the Fen Tigers' line-up for next season.

The 18-year-old from Chelmsford joins on a 3.95 average after putting almost a point on with the Raiders in his debut season in the sport.

Bowtell only took up speedway less than a year ago, after proving a success in Rye House's training schools.

He had previously honed his two-wheel skills since the age of six at motocross and reached world No 6 before breaking his back twice.

Bowtell bagged a brace of six-point scores against the KJM Fen Tigers at West Row this year, as well as notching eight at Hoddesdon.

Speedway

"Last year was a massive learning curve," said Bowtell, who is mentored by former England international Andrew Silver.

"I was settling in at reserve and found myself moved into the main body, which came as a bit of a shock, but I soon settled.

"I am really pleased to have signed for Mildenhall. I have heard a lot of good things about the club from other riders who have ridden for them.

"I still have plenty to learn and that was an attraction to joining Mildenhall, with the likes of Kevin (Jolly) and Robert (Henry) plus a rider of Jon Armstrong's experience.

"Also knowing Andrew is in my corner is really positive for me."

The Tigers are the second team in the National League to finish their team building – King's Lynn were first – and promoter Jolly is delighted with his capture.

He said: "Alfie impressed me a great deal last season and as soon as we heard that Tom Bacon was not returning, he became my focus for the No 2 position.

"He is a very determined and exciting rider who I know our supporters will very quickly take to.

"After a fine first year I think he can really kick on next season."

Mildenhall 2016 line-up (38.91 from 40) – Dan Halsey (8.24), Jon Armstrong (7.74), Connor Mountain (7.07), Connor Coles (5.61), Alfie Bowtell (3.95), Luke Ruddick (3.30), Rob Parker (3.00).

DAVID CRANE

On-song Moore scores a double in Hong Kong

Racing

RYAN Moore enjoyed a double at Sha Tin with victory on Highland Reel in the LONGINES Hong Kong Vase and Maurice in the LONGINES Hong Kong Mile.

Aidan O'Brien's Highland Reel saw off defending champion Flintshire to land the Vase.

Winner of the Secretariat Stakes at Arlington Park this summer before finishing fifth in the Irish Champion Stakes, Highland Reel was last seen placing third in Australia's Cox Plate at Moonee Valley.

After a smart start, the three-year-old was allowed to bowl along at the head of affairs by Moore, before being passed in the back straight by outsider Harbour Master and Corine Barande-Barbe's stable star Cirrus Des Aigles.

Andre Fabre's Flintshire quickened up well to grab the lead in the straight, but Highland Reel came back tenaciously in the final furlong and was well on top at the line.

Dariyan was third for Alain de Royer-Dupre, with another French challenger, the Mikel Delzangles-trained Ming Dynasty, fourth.

Sir Michael Stoute's Cannock Chase never threatened to land a telling blow.

Moore (pictured above right) said: "If I'd been left alone he'd have won very easy. He's turned into a very good horse.

"He's had a hard schedule, but he keeps getting better. He's improved immensely since the start of the year."

John Moore's Hong Kong superstar Able Friend was unsurprisingly all the rage to claim yet another victory at his home track in the Mile and looked in with every chance of doing so after being angled wide to challenge in the straight by Joao Moreira.

However, Japanese challenger Maurice, always travelling well for Ryan Moore, was able to match Able Friend's change of gear in the closing stages and finished best to secure Group One glory.

Last year's winner Able Friend was narrowly beaten to the runner-up spot by Giant Treasure, with Fabre's mare Esoterique passing the post fourth.

Ryan Moore said: "He's a big-hearted horse, who really impressed me in his work before winning the Kyoto (Mile Championship), but I was a little bit worried about his travelling.

"Once we got down to the start he was relaxed and I was happy, and at the finish he showed plenty of heart and really dug in.

"He's a top-class miler and you have to remember that he had a hard race in Kyoto and has backed up three weeks later.

"I think he was possibly slightly more impressive last time, but fair play, he's done it really well in the end today."

Ryan Moore also finished second on Nuovo Record in the LONGINES Hong Kong Cup, which was won by A Shin Hikari.

Greygoose excited by Mildenhall progress

DEAN Greygoose believes Mildenhall are well-placed to make the step up after being one of the five Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division teams to submit a promotion application.

Mildenhall, Godmanchester, Ipswich Wanderers, Norwich United and Stanway Rovers were all confirmed as applying for promotion to step four last week.

Greygoose's side are currently 10th in the Premier Division and 18 points off the top two, albeit with games in hand on the sides above them.

But although the manager concedes it will be difficult to finish in a position to go up this season, he is in no doubt the work being done off the field has ensured Mildenhall are ready.

Football

"I think it's going to be hard for us to get there this season, but we will get there and we'll be ready for it whether it happens this season or next," said Greygoose.

"There are a lot of good people at the club who are working hard, organising things and making sure the infrastructure is in place for us to progress.

"I think now we need to catch up a bit on the field. We're so close and I think after Christmas is when you'll see it really come together.

"I'm impatient and I want it to happen this year, but even if we have to wait until next year we will get there."

As far as the football side is concerned, Greygoose has been working hard to build up the club's youth section and ensure there is a pathway through from age group level to the senior side.

Meanwhile, the first team drew 1-1 at home to Walsham Le Willows last Saturday.

The hosts went 1-0 down in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division game, but Rob Ruddy's first goal for the club ensured it ended all square.

"It showed why we are where we are this season," said Greygoose.

"We're dominating 60 per cent of every game, but we're just not taking our chances. It will come though."

■ Kandas Douganou sealed a 2-1 win for Fordham at home to Chatteris Town reserves in the Newmarket Motor Company League 1B.

Jordan Theobald fired Fordham in front with a shot from the edge of the penalty box after 20 minutes.

Chatteris levelled soon after and hit the woodwork on three occasions, but Douganou's 65th-minute finish secured all three points.
